11th May (Wednesday), 2022

Venue:

All India Institute of Medical Science, Rajkot (Gujarat), India

Organized by:

Department of Forensic Medicine & Toxicology, AIIMS, Rajkot (Gujarat), India

Dear Colleagues,

The Department of Forensic Medicine & Toxicology, All India Institute of Medical Sciences, Rajkot (Gujarat) India is organizing one day CME on Medico-legal Issues in Clinical Practice. Routinely, medical practitioners, who are expert in their respective specialty, are not much updated about legal and ethical aspects of medical practice. Lack of awareness about these issues, sometimes creates chaos & litigations that can very well be avoided. Even, doctors are at verge of suicide due to such false allegations and litigations. This CME is being held with a view to provide a platform to discuss various legal and ethical issues that arise in routine medical practice like common clinical errors and aspects relevant to medical negligence etc. We expect that this CME will greatly be beneficial for the participants in dealing with legal & ethical issues in their day to day medical practice. We heartily invite you to be part of this academic fest and look forward to your active participation.

Thanking you, Organizing Team.
