AIIMS Rajkot recently celebrated National Immunization Day, focusing on the Pulse Polio program with remarkable vision and unwavering commitment. The event was spearheaded by the Executive Director, Prof. Dr. (Col.) CDS Katoch, whose leadership played a pivotal role in ensuring the health and well-being of the community.

Leadership and Support

Prof. Dr. (Col.) CDS Katoch sir's dedication to the cause was evident throughout the event, highlighting his instrumental role in promoting community health. The success of this program would not have been possible without the invaluable support from the Deputy Director Administration (DDA) Dr Puneet Arora and the Administrative Officer Shri Jaydevsinh Vala, who provided their unwavering assistance to ensure the smooth execution of the initiative. The background support of Dean Academics Dr Sanjay Gupta is deeply appreciated by the vaccination team.

Program Management

The successful management of the program was led by Dr. Anjali Modi Faculty CFM Department and the Vaccination team. Their meticulous planning and execution were crucial in achieving the goals of the Pulse Polio program, ensuring that immunization efforts reached all targeted segments of the population.

Community Impact

The National Immunization Day at AIIMS Rajkot underscores the institution's commitment to public health and its proactive approach in combating polio. The combined efforts of the leadership, administrative support, and the dedicated vaccination team resulted in a well-coordinated and impactful immunization drive.

In conclusion, AIIMS Rajkot's celebration of the National Immunization Day - Pulse Polio program is a testament to its commitment to health and community well-being, setting a benchmark for future health initiatives.
